

The Archangels and their specialties

Who are the Archangels?

Angels are messengers from God. They have never incarnated into human bodies except on specific occasions when their mission was to deliver a special messages as when Archangel Gabriel visited Mary to announce that she was pregnant and was going to have a son named Jesus.

One of the nine choirs of angels, Archangels are powerful beings who were created to worship God and be intimately involved in our lives. They offer guidance, love, wisdom, support, companionship, and protection.

Do I worship angels?

No. All glory goes to God. They, like us, give all our praise to God. The archangels do not want our worship but to provide us with the assistance we need so that our reverence to God is whole and complete.

Why do the Archangels have specialties?

God has given these powerful beings assignments so that all aspects of God's creation are attended to. Do you ever stand in awe at the wonder of our world, which is such a small part of the massive solar system and universe? The Archangels assist God in support and maintenance of us and our planet.

The best way to describe the gifts of the Archangels is to think of facets of a diamond. The cuts of a diamond are designed to enhance its beauty and value. Think how the facets reflect in the light and cause the gem to fire flashes of light and brilliance. The facets cause you to focus your attention on the diamond. The angels act in much the same way. The special assignments of the Archangels allow us to focus on the power and majesty of God.

What if I pray to the wrong Archangel?

You can't. They angels love you unconditionally. Knowing the domains or specialty of each Archangel is not a memory test and you do not lose points if you call on the wrong angel (which is impossible). You receive immediate assistance from any angel at any time. However, you will see in the list provided below that most issues/problems/concerns are overseen by specific Archangels and aligning with them will provide you with powerful assistance. Just as you would go to a mechanic who specializes in your make of car or go the a specific doctor who has expertise in certain medical problems, you may find a greater sense of peace and confidence by working closely with specific Archangels.

How do I ask the Archangels for help?

There is no “correct” way to call on the angels. But you have to ask. As much as they want to help and even when they know their intervention would be beneficial, they cannot proceed without your permission. You can ask in as few or many words as you wish. You can say something like, Archangel (say the name) I call upon you now. Please help with (describe your situation or request).

Next, wait for their guidance. This can come in a variety of ways. For example, you may get a gut feeling, hear someone speaking in your head, be inspired by lyrics to songs, poems or random words from conversations. Sometimes the guidance is instantaneous because the angels need you to do (or not do something). Sometimes there is silence. Honor that and wait. There are times when the angels have preliminary work to do and your guidance will come at a later time. But when you do receive their messages do what they say. Trust your angels.
